SICSS Munich – Certificate of Attendance

Julian Kohne

Munich, 2023-08-10

I hereby confirm that the participant successfully attended the Munich Summer Institute in Computational Social Science (SICSS). The event took place at the Ludwig-Maximilian University of Munich from July 24, 09.00 until August 3, 18.00, with Saturday afternoon as well as Sunday off.

The Summer Institute brought together graduate students, postdoctoral researchers, and faculty interested in computational social science. The instructional program involved lectures, group problem sets, and participant-led research projects. We had outside speakers who conduct computational social science research in a variety of settings, such as academia, industry, and government. Topics covered included the collection of digital trace data, automated text analysis, transparent and reproducible research, and ethics.

With best Wishes,

Prof. Carsten Schwemmer
